Military Displays

Examples

An LED electronic display such as ours are an ideal solution for the Military sector. Our displays have been installed in numerous military establishments and recently to Army Headquarters as shown on the cover .

From site entrance displays and general signs around the base which convey welcome messages, general, safety and status information as well as speed and directional information through to LED displays installed onto the flight decks of navy vessels or helicopters, such as the display below on the flight deck of HMS Illustrious and the display at RAF Fairford. From simple Single Line Displays to Full Colour Video Boards, we can supply whatever you need.

The displays can be custom designed to incorporate bespoke graphics or software as you can see in the examples.
